What are the benefits of a Chazen Global Travel Programs?

- Complement your coursework
- Gain unprecedented first-hand experience of a business culture
- Expand your practitioner network
- Enhance your industry knowledge
- Discover potentially beneficial business practices
- Build and strengthen your relationships with your peers
- Broaden your intercultural competency and understanding
- Stay at the forefront of an ever-globalizing world

What is the difference between Chazen Global Study Tours and Chazen Global Immersion Programs?

Global Study Tours	Global Immersion Program (GIP)
Not for credit	For credit
Selection is through Chazen Bidding using Chazen bid points	Selection is through BOSS elective bidding using class bid points
Student-run and initiated	Faculty-led
No class sessions	Class sessions prior to immersion and deliverable due after
Usually involves travel to multiple cities	Usually based in one city

What are they like?

- This is a STUDY tour, not a vacation.
- Intense mix of business and cultural visits
- Expect about 2 business meetings each business day, which works out to 10-12 throughout the trip (depends on the length of the tour and the visits themselves)
- Students are expected to attend the entire tour and be active participants
- ALL company visits are mandatory
- Culture of the tours is inclusive – get to know your fellow classmates!

Who goes?

- Full-time Business School students (no significant others)
 - A faculty member and sometimes a staff member (costs covered by the Chazen Institute)
 - Tours range from 20-40 participants
 - Students with holds on their accounts are unable to participate in Chazen Study Tours
 - No shadowing allowed (Please do not ask the organizers for their help in planning your trip)
 - Students must have valid travel medical insurance that covers routine and emergency care.
 - Students with the School's Aetna Health Insurance is covered abroad by On Call International

What is the schedule?

- Student organizers will show you tentative itineraries at this point with targeted companies.
- Many companies will not confirm until closer to the travel dates, but these are based on personal contacts and previous tours.
- Leading up to the travel, each tour will have a pre-departure meeting with the latest schedule.

What does it cost?

Budgets will include⁺:

- 4/5 Star Hotels (double occupancy)
- Local transport
- Breakfasts and some lunches and dinners
- Some cultural activities

⁺ Faculty, admin, and student organizer costs are not included in the budget. These costs are borne by the Chazen Institute.

Not Included:

- Students will be responsible for booking for their own international flight

Can I increase my loans for travel?

- Generally no since study tours are not for credit. Students are only able to increase their loan eligibility for a study tour if they register for an associated independent study, under the guidance of a faculty sponsor. Contact the Office of Student Affairs for more information.
- Chazen Travel Fund is available for those with financial need. Applications are accepted in the summer.

- Dutch Auction Bidding System

- lowest price that all bidders are willing to pay is the “clearing price” for everyone

Overview

Please use this guide to familiarize yourself with the Chazen Study Tour bidding process. Please note that while this process will be very similar to regular elective course bidding, there are some differences:

1. There will only be ONE round of bidding (this is a change from last year's 2 rounds)
2. There will not be a separate add/drop round
3. There will not be a separate waitlist round

If you require additional assistance, this site contains a Help area that includes step-by-step instructions, including screen shots from the Chazen Tours bidding website.

What do I do after I get a spot?

- Successful bidders will have 48 hours to pay a non-refundable $500 deposit
- If you don't pay the deposit, you will forfeit your spot and your bid points will be refunded to you
- Once you've paid the deposit, you are considered on the tour and will not get your deposit or bid points back if you drop (except in exceptional cases)
- Check for conflicting classes and other activities, like weddings, BEFORE signing up for a study tour (these do not count as an exceptional circumstances) *

* NOTE: Second-years are allowed to bid, but CBS graduation (May 19) and University Commencement (May 22) overlap with all May study tours

How do I withdraw after I've paid my deposit?

- Withdrawal creates extra work for organizers and also increases the costs for students on the waitlist
- Refunds of bid points/payments will only be made in the following instances:
 - Illness that would prevent your travel
 - Family emergencies (such as death or serious illness of immediate family member)
 - Military service
 - Court appearances, such as jury duty
 - Visa denial
- NOTE: exceptions will not be made for classes (including Global Immersion and Block Week classes*), interviews, weddings, students activities, conferences, personal travel, etc.
- Requests must be made in writing with supporting documentation
- Refunds will be made less any non-refundable fees/expenses already incurred
- NOTE: if you withdraw after the final payment deadline, you may be responsible for the full cost of the study tour

What are the differences between Chazen and BOSS bidding?

Chazen Study Tour Bidding	Course Bidding
One Round	Multiple Rounds
No Waitlist Round	Waitlist Round
No Add/Drop Round	Add/Drop Rounds
Study tour spot is only secured by paying non-refundable deposit after successful bidding	Course spot is secured through successful bidding only
