

Live Webinar

Recent Lessons for Financial Regulation and Macroprudential Policy

September 8, 2020

Featuring:

Ryozo Himino, Commissioner, Financial Services Agency, The Japanese Government

Donald Kohn, Robert V. Roosa Chair of International Economics at Brookings; Financial Stability Committee member at the Bank of England; Former Vice Chair of the Federal Reserve Board

Jeremy Stein, Moise Y. Safra Professor of Economics at Harvard University; former Governor of the Federal Reserve Board

Moderator:

Patricia C. Mosser, Director of Central Banking and Financial Policy @ SIPA, and Senior Research Scholar, School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA), Columbia University

Discussant:

Takatoshi Ito, Professor, SIPA, Columbia University; Director, Program on Public Pension and Sovereign Funds, Center on Japanese Economy and Business (CJEB), Columbia Business School

On September 8, 2020, CJEB was an outreach partner for Central Banking and Financial Policy@SIPA's live webinar featuring Ryozo Himino, Donald Kohn, and Jeremy Stein. Patricia Mosser moderated the talk and Takatoshi Ito was a discussant. The speakers discussed the extraordinary regulatory/macropru policy responses to COVID-19 in many countries, including temporary easing of some regulations, use of macroprudential tools, and other adjustments to preserve capital and liquidity at financial institutions. This event was conducted in English as part of "The Japanese Economy in the COVID-19 Era" series. To view the video recording of the webinar, please visit <https://youtu.be/wfV2TCNhlo0>.