PROGRAM STRUCTURE

Day One focuses on understanding your current family situation from a new perspective. What do you own, and how does your family approach ownership across all assets?

Day Two delves into business fundamentals for those who may or may not be involved in day-to-day operations and management. Managers and non-managers learn best practices for family enterprises in a way that goes beyond business and investments.

Day Three rounds out the topics with a focus on wealth management, family offices, and other ways to organize your family enterprise. Participants will have an opportunity to reflect and create an action plan tailored to their specific needs.

FACULTY DIRECTOR

Patricia Angus

*Adjunct Professor of Business
Managing Director, Family Business Program*

Patricia Angus, JD, MIA, TEP, is founder and CEO of Angus Advisory Group LLC, an adjunct professor at Columbia University, and managing director of the Family Business Program. A recognized thought leader in multi-generational family governance and wealth, she has advised families with businesses, trusts, and charitable foundations for more than two decades.

Ms. Angus launched and teaches two of the foundational family enterprise courses at Columbia. She draws upon more than 25 years of advising the world's wealthiest families as a lawyer, wealth advisor, and independent consultant. Her career has involved leadership positions at firms including Hughes and Whitaker (now Day Pitney), Coudert Brothers international law firm (now Baker & McKenzie), GenSpring, and JP Morgan Private Bank.

Along with Professor Angus, additional Columbia Business School faculty contribute to and teach in the program.

WHAT PARTICIPANTS ARE SAYING

"An extremely comprehensive program in terms of the range of disciplines, problems, and matters concerning family enterprises. I am actually currently living through most of what was covered in the program." — Luis Amodio, Giombini, Director at Grupo CAABSA

"The program teaches financial concepts in a very practical, down-to-earth way for people with no business background. It also acknowledges the emotional side of a family business." — Alicia Kuljis, Shareholder at Inversiones Cruz del Oriente Sociedad Anonima

WHY COLUMBIA BUSINESS SCHOOL?

Columbia Business School is the only Ivy League institution that delivers a learning experience where academic excellence meets real-time exposure to the pulse of business in New York City.
